International transfer of personal data

Your personal data may be stored and processed in any country where we have facilities or in which we engage data processors in accordance with the applicable data protection laws and regulations.

Whenever we transfer your personal data, we will ensure a similar degree of protection is afforded to it by implementing at least one of the following safeguards:

- We will only transfer your personal data to countries that have been deemed to provide an adequate level of protection for personal data;

- In the absence of an adequate level of protection, we will transfer your personal data provided one of the legal safeguards is in place or with your consent;
- Personal data may be transferred to another country or territory on the basis of necessity if such a transfer is necessary for any of the purposes outlined under the applicable data protection legislation.

If you instruct us to cease using or processing your personal data, we have the right to terminate any existing services to you within a reasonable time or immediately, as determined by the Company.

Technical and Organisational Measures

We have put in place appropriate and reasonable security measures to prevent your personal data from being accidentally lost, used, collected, disclosed, altered, disposed or accessed in an unauthorized way, altered or disclosed. In addition, we limit access to your personal data to those employees, agents, contractors and third-parties who have a business need-to-know. They will only process your personal data on our instructions, and they are subject to confidentiality obligations. We have put in place procedures to deal with any suspected data security breach and will notify you and any applicable regulator of a suspected breach where we are legally required to do so. When we contract with third parties, we impose appropriate security, privacy and confidentiality obligations on them to ensure that personal data that we remain responsible for, is kept secure. We will ensure that anyone to whom we pass your personal data agrees to treat your information with the same level of protection as we are obliged to.

How do we store personal data and for how long?

The Company will process personal data for as long as we have a business relationship with you, in a combination of secure computer storage facilities and paper-based files and other records and we will take the necessary measures to protect the personal data we hold about you from misuse, loss, unauthorized access, modification or disclosure.

When we consider that personal data is no longer needed for the purpose for which it was collected, we will remove any details that will identify you or we will securely destroy the records. However, we may need to maintain records for a significant period of time (after you cease to be our client) subject to certain AML laws that require us to retain a copy of the documents we used in order to comply with our customer due diligence obligations as well as supporting evidence and records of transactions with you and your relationship with us. For the personal data held in the form of an email, telephone, electronic, in person or otherwise recorded communication, the information will be retained in line with the requirements of our Regulatory Authority.

If you have opted out of receiving marketing communications we will hold your details on our suppression list so that we know you do not want to receive these communications. We may keep your data for a longer time than the retention period if for legal, regulatory or technical reasons we cannot delete it.
